

10 basic points in writing an article

If we want to briefly point out some basic points, you can keep these 10 points in mind:

- 1) An attractive title has the greatest effect in attracting the attention of journal reviewers.
- 2) The scope of the selected journal should match the topic of your article.
- 3) The quality of the article must match the journal level. Any ambition in choosing the journal will cause the article to be rejected.
- 4) Be sure to consider an expert and experienced translator for the articles that you intend to publish in the journals in English. So that the article will be translated in a completely specialized manner and with the best quality.
- 5) Articles must be converted into the format specified by the journal before being submitted to the journal. Consider this format change and editing as well.
- 6) The reviewers of the journals concentrate to even the smallest issues. Be sure to edit the article carefully and pay attention to the details.
- 7) The cover letter can also be one of the most effective things in the article. If you can, try to deliver a cover letter along with the article to the editor of the journal.
- 8) Organize the article completely and do not submit it to the journal without checking and paying attention to all sections.
- 9) Before submitting the article, check the amount of literary similarities or accidental plagiarism, the presence of similarities even unintentionally can be a factor in rejecting the article.
- 10) Try to pay attention to the requests of the reviewers before submitting and check even the very minor issues that have been asked of you.